OJS News

16 March 2015

Last week's Red Nose Day was an amazing success! Children have arranged cake sales, colouring competitions, penalty shoot outs, bowling, super cinema, danceathons and dressing up/down on Friday raising an amazing £827.14 which will be sent off to Comic Relief—Children, teachers, support staff—you are Red Nose heroes! Well done to everyone who got involved you are all amazing!

This week is slightly quieter at OJS although we have started warming up for next week with Science Week. Monday we have the 'Fossil man' into school who will have some incredible activities in school which promises to be super fun.

This week sees our infamous Older Person's Event take place. Due its popularity we have decided to hold an event at Easter as the event at Christmas was so oversubscribed. We are pleased to advise everyone who was left disappointed at Christmas has now been offered the opportunity of attending. As a result we have three places available for Thursday 19 March, these are offered on a first come, first served basis—names to the office please
